

ART

When making your revisions during course review it is important to take a few extra minutes to review and reflect on your course and whether or not it still meets the current GE Plan A student learning outcomes for the area your course(s) are listed in. If you believe the course reflects the student learning outcomes, please re-affirm and give a rationale and several examples of how your course meets the student learning outcomes for your area of GE Plan A. Please do not cut copy and paste the student learning outcomes in as your rationale.

It is recommended if a course is cross-referenced that a collaboration on the course between the various disciplines involved should revise the course together.

Below are the student learning outcomes for the courses in each of the areas your course(s) are listed on the current Ohlone College GE Plan A. Courses in red are GE Courses.

Area III Fine Arts/Humanities

A. Fine Arts – Courses which focus on the arts in a context which is historical, analytical, or theoretical. These courses address the need for the student to develop an aesthetic understanding and ability to make value judgments in a measurable and integrative way. (Ohlone College definition) Upon receipt of an associate degree from Ohlone College, a student will be able to:

1. Appraise and evaluate the aesthetic elements of the fine and performing arts.
2. Analyze the contributions of the fine and performing arts from historical, cultural, and theoretical perspectives.

B. Humanities – Courses in the humanities are those which study the cultural activities and artistic expressions of human beings. To satisfy the general education requirement in the humanities, a course shall be designed to help the student develop an awareness of the ways in which people through the ages and in different cultures have responded to themselves and the world around them in artistic and cultural creation and help the student develop aesthetic understanding and an ability to make value judgments. Such courses could include introductory or integrative courses in the arts, foreign language, literature, philosophy, and religion. (Title 5) Upon receipt of an associate degree from Ohlone College, a student will be able to:

1. Appraise the role of the arts, foreign language, literature, philosophy, and religion in cultural development.
2. Assess the relationships among the arts, the humanities, and the self.

Area VI Cultural Diversity, AA, AS Degree (3 units)

Definition: Courses which satisfy the Ohlone College cultural diversity requirement shall be those courses which focus study on historically underrepresented group(s) in the United States of America in relation to the majority Eurocentric culture. Additionally, courses may focus on other group perspectives(s) such as culture, religion, disabled, age, gender, sexual orientation, and/or socioeconomic background. The experience or experiences of the historically underrepresented culture(s) or group perspectives in U.S. society should be a primary focus of a course which qualifies. A course's approved description, objectives, outline, syllabi, and other instructional materials such as textbooks shall reflect this intent. Course authors seeking inclusion of a course on the approved cultural diversity list should submit materials to the Cultural Diversity Subcommittee for review. (Ohlone College definition; Title 5 requires ethnic studies to be offered in at least one of the required areas.)

Upon receipt of an associate degree from Ohlone College, a student will be able to:

1. Explain the main cultural focus of the course.
2. Examine the relevant issues regarding one or more cultural groups.
3. Develop sensitivity and skills in living and working in a diverse community.
4. Analyze the various values, customs, and lifestyles of the cultural group(s) under study in relation to the majority Eurocentric culture.
5. Examine how the group(s) help(s) structure contemporary American experiences.
