

JOURNALISM

When making your revisions during course review it is important to take a few extra minutes to review and reflect on your course and whether or not it still meets the current GE Plan A student learning outcomes for the area your course(s) are listed in. If you believe the course reflects the student learning outcomes, please re-affirm and give a rationale and several examples of how your course meets the student learning outcomes for your area of GE Plan A. Please do not cut copy and paste the student learning outcomes in as your rationale.

Below are the student learning outcomes for the courses in each of the areas your course(s) are listed on the current Ohlone College GE Plan A. If the course is in blue, you are not required to make the revision as this course is not primary in your department, you may work on it with some one from the primary area. If the course is in red you must review for both curriculum and GE.

Area II Social and Behavioral Sciences/American Institutions

Courses in the social and behavioral sciences are those which focus on people as members of society. To satisfy the general education requirement in social and behavioral sciences, a course shall be designed to develop an awareness of the methods of inquiry used by the social and behavioral sciences. It shall be designed to stimulate critical thinking about the ways people act and have acted in response to their societies and should promote appreciation of how societies and social subgroups operate. This category would include introductory or integrative survey courses in cultural anthropology, cultural geography, economics, history, political science, psychology, sociology, and related disciplines. (Title 5)

Upon receipt of an associate degree from Ohlone College, a student will be able to:

1. Distinguish the ways human cultures develop and how people behave within the context of their cultures.
2. Demonstrate an understanding and appreciation of social, political, and economic institutions within a historical perspective.
3. Identify and apply the major theories and methods of inquiry of the social and behavioral sciences to specific cultures and social groups.

B. Humanities – Courses in the humanities are those which study the cultural activities and artistic expressions of human beings. To satisfy the general education requirement in the humanities, a course shall be designed to help the student develop an awareness of the ways in which people through the ages and in different cultures have responded to themselves and the world around them in artistic and cultural creation and help the student develop aesthetic understanding and an ability to make value judgments. Such courses could include introductory or integrative courses in the arts, foreign language, literature, philosophy, and religion. (Title 5)

Upon receipt of an associate degree from Ohlone College, a student will be able to:

1. Appraise the role of the arts, foreign language, literature, philosophy, and religion in cultural development.
2. Assess the relationships among the arts, the humanities, and the self.

Area IV Language and Rationality

Courses in language that cover the principles and applications of language toward logical thought, clear and precise expression and critical evaluation of communication in whatever symbol system the student uses.

A. English Composition: Courses fulfilling the written composition requirement shall be designed to include both expository and argumentative writing.
