The Ohlone Renegades overcame 18 turnovers and a Hartnell College buzzer-beater that forced overtime to get the win 74-68.

Despite being careless protecting the ball and not taking advantage of their size advantage for most of the game against the much smaller Hartnell team, the Renegades found themselves with a 3-point lead with half a second left in the game.

Then a Hartnell player made an unbelievable contested shot, fading away just a few feet in front of half court. The Renegades rested well in overtime after Hartnell’s 3-point prayer. They outscored Hartnell 12-5 and sealed the victory 74-68.

The turning point of the game came midway through the second half. Ohlone had a 39-36 lead, but Hartnell caught fire. Their offense was firing on all cylinders, making every shot they took, and after a 10-0 run they were on top 46-39.

Following a timeout, Ohlone appeared to play more aggressively in all aspects. Center Dani Bustos led the charge, establishing a presence in the post but more importantly using Ohlone’s size advantage. His energy off the bench rubbed off on his teammates.

Forward Elliot Warren was like a crazed man snagging rebounds on offense and defense. He ended the game with a double-double, scoring 10 points and grabbing 14 rebounds.

Point guards Jesse Wilsmes and Ryo Tawatari forced turnovers that translated to easy layups. Forward Marcus Holmquist-Pollock played stifling defense, not allowing any room for Hartnell’s top-scoring option.

“We were down there at the end of the second half and we did great to come back and get the lead,” Head Coach Scott Fisher said. “To Hart-
