  - Provide a brief narrative that describes the instructional program/discipline:

    The Chicano Studies program at Ohlone College offers courses for students desiring to transfer to a four-year institution, for students seeking a two-year degree, or a certificate program; and to those seeking life-long learning. The Chicano Studies program currently offers courses in Chicano Culture, Chicano History, Chicano Literature, Contemporary Issues of Chicanas, and Barrio Fieldwork (service learning). In addition, the Introduction to Ethnic Studies has been a course traditionally associated with the program, and has been a regular teaching responsibility of the Chicano Studies professor. Most Chicano Studies courses are UC and CSU transferable, with the exception of Barrio Field Work. The Chicano Studies program also cross-lists courses with History, Sociology, Women’s Studies, and Interdisciplinary Studies.

- College Mission:
  - Mission Statement:
    The mission of Ohlone College is to serve the community by offering instruction for basic skills, career entry, university transfer, economic development, and personal enrichment for all who can benefit from our instruction in an environment where student learning success is highly valued, supported and continually assessed.
  - Program Relation to College Mission:
    - Basic Skill
    - University Transfer
  - State Your Program Mission/Purpose:

    The Chicano Studies program is guided by five goals established in the formative years of Chicano Studies by its pioneering scholars in order to provide students with the basic skills to understand the Chicana/o experience and social conditions. According to Reynaldo Macías’ work in “El Grito en Aztlán: Voice and Presence in Chicana/o Studies,” these goals are: 1) Create new knowledge about the diverse Chicano community; 2) Reformulate old knowledge; 3) Apply research knowledge to the improvement of the material conditions of the Chicano community; 4) Support the cultural renaissance within the community; and 5) Support social changes through a critical awareness and commitment to equity, and social justice.

Briefly Describe Program Accomplishments:

Chicana/o Studies was established as a result of the tumultuous activism of the Civil Rights era, along with African-American Studies, American Indian Studies, Asian-American Studies, Women’s Studies, and LGBT Studies. The ethnic, gender, and sexuality studies all have some similarity in terms of employing an interdisciplinary academic approach that is specific to the community they research. Chicana/o studies must take into account many possibilities to understand, explain, and interpret the Chicana/o and Latina/o experience and social conditions.

Achievement and Resource Data Analysis:

1. Research Questions:

   1. For the past six semesters there has been one CHS class offered, and enrollment in that class has declined by 50%. Is it time to rethink the purpose or scope of the department?
   2. For the past three years success rates in CHS classes have been below the college-set minimum standards. Are there any new strategies that can be employed to improve student success in this discipline?

2. Please Indicate the PSLO(s) which you are reporting on:

- Students will demonstrate and internalize the ability to comprehend the Latina/o experience critically, analytically, and creatively.

3. Analyze and summarize your assessment findings â?? What in the data jumped out?

The aligned assessment measure is of student achievement relative to an assignment involving research on an organization in the local community that attempts to address the issues studied in the course. The students must also conduct an oral interview with an employee at the organization they are researching. In addition, the student must complete a written report, following the guidelines of the assignment. The average score on the project was 77%, which equates to an acceptable grade of C.

4. Give examples of assessments used for your PSLO analysis:

CHS 101 Fall 2012. Note: There are no CSLOA’s on the master course list. And none filed electronically on the site. This CSLOA (noted above) came from an attachment. The SLO assessed was "Critically differentiate between the value structures of current American culture and three other cultures through written and oral assignments. This SLO relates most closely with the PSLO checked above. This course SLO expects students to achieve at the Introductory level.

5. Describe input from Program Advisory Committee (if applicable):

N/A

6. Comments:

Ralph DeUnamuno, the instructor carrying out the assessment, concluded that there is a need to find more contact with local community organizations, in part to facilitate internships. This will allow students to spend more time on their research and interviews, and not have to spend so much time looking for contacts. The result of which will be a higher level of achievement of the SLO. Although not as closely related, achievement on this SLO 2 also reflects on achievement for SLO 1 (writing and research skills).
