KEY FACTS
Ohlone College Newark Center

The Ohlone College Newark Center opened in January 2008, after many years of planning and support from the residents of Newark. A facility to serve the north part of the District, located in the City of Newark, had been planned since the early 1990s in cooperative meetings between Ohlone College, the City of Newark and the Newark school district.

The passage of the Measure A bond in 2002 realized the dream of a permanent location for the Ohlone College Newark Center. A full-range of general education courses are taught at the Newark Center, which also houses the Nursing, Respiratory Therapist and Physical Therapist Assistant programs and science and technology labs.
