| Agenda item | Discussion highlights | Action items taken/follow-up |
|---------------------------------|---|------------------------------|
| Introductions | Mandy introduced two new members: Andres Garcia who is the Transfer Center Coordinator and Julie Navarro who is a mental health therapist/clinical supervisor at the Student Health Center | None |
| Student Health Center update | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Dr. Lang thanked members of SHAC for their contributions as thinking partners in promoting student health services and wellness ▪ Dr. Lang has been working with Washington Hospital in a search for a new director, but it has been a struggle ▪ Dr. Lang thanked Sang for working with him on understanding the landscape of student health services across the state ▪ The level of campus-based healthcare services utilization has been going down, not just at Ohlone, but across many campuses across the state due to factors such as the Affordable Care Act and the pandemic ▪ Washington Hospital will be able to provide telehealth for Ohlone students; we are currently working on the contract to make this happen; we are hoping to get this started by next Friday ▪ Search efforts for a new director will continue ▪ Sima asked about the telehealth partnership with WHHS – will this continue even after a director is in place? Answer is that we are still exploring this idea and learning about other models out there | None |
| Sex Talk Sundays seminar series | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Rebecca Ryan was invited today to share an announcement and a program idea in which she would like to receive feedback ▪ She is organizing recruitment efforts for two contact tracing positions for students; they have received over 30 applications for 2 positions ▪ She is proposing a new program at Ohlone on hosting a seminar series focused on sexual and reproductive health topics that would roll out once a month ▪ Goal of the program is to increase education on sex related issues, including on prevention, to normalize the conversation on this topic ▪ She may schedule the series on a weekend evening; sessions can be recorded and posted on the website ▪ Rebecca is currently working on getting consensus from the campus community about this idea ▪ | None |
