Update on February meeting action items	Presentation to Student Equity and Achievement (SEA) Committee <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Mandy, Sang, and our three student wellness ambassadors (Carissa, Yona, and Amithi) presented at the SEA Committee meeting on February 19th on ideas to integrate mental health activities into equity related initiatives; the presentation was well-received. ▪ See slide deck for scope and content of presentation and our group’s interest in collaboration with SEA’s three taskforces: FYE, Multicultural Student Center, Summer Bridge ▪ Jeff O’Connell commended student wellness ambassadors for a job well-done with the classroom presentation they delivered to his class and how well received it was (Sara Suboh and Yona Lo) Crisis intervention materials <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Special thanks to Mary Wilhelm-Chapin and Robin Kurotori for verifying the accessibility of the Pages (content) of the mini Crisis Intervention Handbook, and for creating a space in the Wellness Central on Canvas to house these faculty resources. We will continue to review material postings to ensure its accuracy and up-to-date information 	None
New mental health referral process	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ The Student Health Center has been exploring new ways to streamline the referral process for mental health services ▪ A set of three intake forms are now available on the health center website so that faculty and staff can direct their students to mental health services more seamlessly; it’s still considered a warm hand off approach, but it’s more systematic ▪ Simi asked how this can be integrated into Starfish which is a platform that can help flag students who may need support. Mandy explained that the two systems are not integrated, and that Starfish as a platform will soon be transitioned out to make room for a new system ▪ Manija asked if there is a mechanism for staff and faculty to complete a referral form on behalf of students. The health center will explore a mechanism for this and still ensure that the warm handoff process is personal while also upholding confidential information sharing protocols.

Subcommittee updates:	Optimizing Student Involvement <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Jassi reported on behalf of student member, Amithi, who was out sick today ▪ Committee will send a reminder email to all faculty of the flyer that was sent at the beginning of the semester to promote student health services ▪ Committee would like to consider a student recognition award ▪ Committee also outlined ideas to carry this work into the next school year Forging On-Campus Partnerships <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ This committee recently explored a potential partnership with an Oakland-based organization called PEERS (which stands for Peers Envisioning and Engaging in Recovery Services) on a potential mentoring program, but that idea has been on hold because both organizations will need to have an MOU in place before any programmatic efforts take place ▪ The committee will now redirect their efforts on campus-based partnerships, perhaps helping SAS (Student Accessibility Services) or the deaf/hard of hearing community to be more involved at Ohlone 	None
Mental health cultural competency training ideas	We did not have time to entertain this topic today	This topic will be moved to April meeting agenda
Announcements; wrap-up	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Rosemary commended student wellness ambassadors for the release of the new issue of the student wellness and lifestyle virtual magazine ▪ Next meeting will be Wednesday, April 14, 2021 	None
