

Day/Date	Time	Event	Description	Link
7/16	11:00 am – 12:30 pm	Black Minds Matter	Black Minds Matter addresses the experiences and realities of Black students in education. Black Minds Matter is a national movement that draws parallels between the policing of Black lives and schooling of Black minds. The course will balance a discussion of issues facing Black students as well as offer research-based strategies for improving their success.	Register

Distance Education Addendum Help Sessions

Hands-on instruction to walk you through creating the Additional Approval Proposal in CurricUNET and complete the DE Addendum. Drop-in help sessions this week.

Day	Date	Time	Facilitator	Zoom link
Monday	7/13	3:00 – 4:30 pm	Robin	Meeting Link

Notes from Mary

If you want to learn more about teaching with Canvas, but can't attend our Make It Take It sessions, check out the FREE, self-paced courses available through @ONE – the Online Network of Educators.

- Introduction to Teaching with Canvas – estimated 40 hours, self-paced;
- Self-paced 5-Day Challenge: Creating Accessible Canvas Content – 20 minute daily activity across 5 days – ABCs of Online Course Design- approximately 60 minutes;
- Self-Paced PowerPoint Accessibility – time commitment is based on your input.

Or perhaps you are looking for some short desktop sessions that focus on the Canvas Platform. So many to choose from. Consider Pages vs. PDFs or How to Use the Canvas Syllabus Tool the Right Way. It is worth your time to explore Byte-Sized Canvas. So much to learn. So little time. Enjoy the journey.