

This Week on the Ohlone eCampus

June 15 – June 21, 2020

Minimum Qualifications Trainings (MQT)

Registration continues for the MQT, the interactive, 6-hour faculty training for those teaching online in summer and/or fall. If you have already registered for an MQT session, you should have received a confirmation email (06/14/20) from eCampus. If you think you registered but did not receive a confirmation, please contact eCampus.

MQT Sessions this Week

There are no MQT Sessions this week as the eCampus folks are doing their own professional development at the Online Teaching Conference. Why not join us? Hundreds of FREE, online sessions available to help you build your online teaching skills. You need to register in advance. Sessions begin on Wednesday, June 17. You'll find a registration link and additional information on the Online Teaching Conference 2020 website.

Make It – Take It Sessions this Week

Hands on workshops resume Friday, June 26th. You can look forward to sessions on Canvas: Quizzes and Gradebook; Zoom: Practicing Engaging Students for REC; and Canvas: Creating Pages and Announcements. Details next Sunday.

Notes from Mary

- Funding from the Chancellor's Office expires for Name Coach so it will be removed from Canvas this week.
- The eCampus is working hard to update the website. A new look is forthcoming! Visit us often!
- Please encourage students to attend the Virtual Information sessions coordinated by Dean Masri.
- Ohlone is providing technology (device and internet) support for students during the pandemic. Students should contact The Foundation and indicate the support they need.
- Interpreters are being added to Canvas courses over the next few days. If you have questions regarding their role in your course, please contact Gage Rodriguez at SAS.
